PRINCESS DI
FOUND
ON MY PATIO

By JESS RILEY

MUM Sharon Hill was STUNNED when the face of PRINCESS DIANA appeared on her patio.

Sharon, of Sheffield, South Yorks, said: "I looked down at the patio thinking it needed a jet wash. "All of a sudden this outline came out of nowhere. The more I looked the more I saw this image of Princess Diana." It's believed Buckingham Palace is "monitoring developments".

'Rat miners' rescue 41 men from tunnel

INDIAN rescuers yesterday drilled through rocks and debris to reach 41 construction workers trapped in a collapsed tunnel in the Himalayas for 17 days.

The process of pulling out the 41 workers from India's poorest state, one at a time on stretchers through a pipe three-feet wide, began soon after, officials said.

"Work of laying pipes in the tunnel to take out workers has been completed," chief minister Pushkar Singh Dhami said.

"Soon, all the labourer brothers will be taken out."

The men have been stuck in the tunnel for 16 days. Rescuers turned on Monday to "rat miners" to drill through the rocks and gravel by hand from inside an evacuation pipe pushed through the debris after machinery failed.

Nurses fume at Docs' 20%

THE government's pay offer to consultants in England will cause fury among nurses, union leaders say.

The amount on offer to the most senior doctors in the NHS was "galling", the Royal College of Nursing said, and strikes could be back.

Some consultants could see their pay rise by 20% this year under the deal, announced on Monday.

Nurses were given 5% extra this year and a one-off sum of £1,655. RCN chief nurse Prof Nicola Ranger said: "Nursing staff will be appalled by this."

Rishi readies for WAR over Elgin Marbles in bizarre rant

FECKIN' GREEKS!

RISHI Sunak cancelled a meeting with the Greek PM after "hitting the roof" when his counterpart brought up the thorny issue of the Elgin Marbles.

The Greek leader's meeting with the Prime Minister due yesterday was axed following Kyriakos Mitsotakis's comments about the Marbles, which he wants returned to Athens from the British Museum.

An insider said: "What with all that's going on, Rishi's a bit on edge at the moment, and when the Greek PM started going on about the Elgin Marbles just before the meeting, he snapped. It was most unlike Rishi.

"I was reminded of that scene in Father Ted where the old woman starts swinging her carrier bags and screaming, 'Feckin' Greeks!'"

"The PM even wondered out loud about sending the Royal Navy to Greece to out the frighteners on Athens. I think he was joking - well, I hope so."

Mr Mitsotakis was offered a meeting with Deputy Prime Minister

Oliver Dowden instead but turned that delight down.

The usual protocol would normally mean a visiting prime minister would meet Mr Sunak, rather than a more junior minister.

Transport Secretary Mark Harper rejected the assertion that it amounted to a snub to Mr Mitsotakis.

"The Deputy Prime Minister offered to meet the Greek prime minister today and it proved not possible to make that happen," Mr Harper said.

Easyjet flies back into profit

BUDGET airline easyJet has revealed it swung to an annual profit after a record summer, but cautioned over a hit from the conflict in Gaza.

The group reported pre-tax profits of £432m for the year to September 30, against losses of £208m the previous year, seeing the group announce its first dividend payout to shareholders since the pandemic.

Underlying profits stood at £455m against a £178m loss in 2022.

A record-breaking performance over its second half and the peak summer season helped it shrug off a 30% jump in its costs, with its fuel bill soaring by 59% to £2bn.

Its flights to Israel and Jordan are paused, with Egypt also seeing a knock-on effect - a combined 4% of its flight programme.

EasyJet said: "Despite positive underlying strength, easyJet does not expect its first quarter loss to improve year on year."

Chrimbo sales help inflation

SHOP price inflation has eased for the sixth month in a row as retailers compete for customers ahead of Christmas.

Shop prices were 4.3% higher than last November, down from October's 5.2% and the lowest since last June.

Food inflation overall slowed to 7.8% from October's 8.8%, the seventh consecutive drop and its lowest rate since last July due to lower domestic energy prices cutting costs, particularly for dairy products, with fresh food inflation slowing to 6.7% from the previous month's 8.3%.

Ambient food inflation slowed to 9.2% but remained higher than fresh food due to a larger proportion of goods being imported to the UK and hit by the weak pound.

Arsonist gets life for shipyard blaze

A SERIAL arsonist has been sentenced to life in prison after starting a fire which destroyed a historic shipyard.

Robert Boyd-Stevenson, 46, worked at Underfall Yard in Bristol for three days when he lit the blaze. Bristol Crown Court heard the fire started in the Big Shed before midnight on May 6.

The fire was so severe it destroyed the Big Shed. It also forced dozens of residents to evacuate their homes.

He was given a life sentence with a minimum term of six years.

New royal book is blasted over Camilla undies claims

OUTRAGE: How dare Scobie talk of the Queen's skimpy?

KEEP OUT OF OUR QUEEN'S KNICKERS!

SEND HIM TO THE TOWER: Omid Scobie

ROYAL-botherer Omid Scobie repeats foul claims about Queen Camilla's KNICKERS in his new book about the House of Windsor.

Scobie's Endgame - released yesterday - is billed as the real story of what has been going on inside the Palace walls.

But the book has already been slammed as second-hand

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

tittle-tattle and gossip-mongering.

Scobie is the journalist who co-wrote Finding Freedom, which he claims is the unauthorised tale of Harry and Meghan.

His latest tome takes aim at senior Royals.

He describes the King as "an outspoken environmental activist, an occasional meddler in politics, a successful businessman, a flawed father and a philandering husband who destroyed the life of Princess Diana..."

Everyone already knows King Charles might have preferred a life as Camilla's tampon.

Scobie also calls His Majesty "a former pampered prince who is now an ageing king". He also scandalously describes lovely Princess Kate as a "Stepford-like royal wife".

But the most salacious claims revolve around our beloved Queen Camilla. He writes: "Camilla might not have stood on the barricades in the 60s, but she did enjoy the sexual freedoms ushered in by that radical generation."

Undergarments

The author quotes a housekeeper saying she knew when Camilla had been to stay with Charles because there would be knickers all over the place.

"Camilla's undergarments making yet another appearance," Scobie adds. Buckingham Palace has kept a dignified silence over Scobie's book but a Royal source dismissed Endgame as "just another book on the Windsors that is not worthy of official comment".

It was branded 'vicious' and 'plain nasty' last night.

Well-placed sources described claims that Charles, Camilla and William conspired to undermine Harry and Meghan as 'poisonous'.

Scobie takes aim at the Princess of Wales, branding her 'cold' and lambasting her for backing mental health causes while 'ignoring Meghan's cries for help'.

Son of movie star Susan Sarandon speaks out...

STOP LOOKING AT MY MUM'S TITS!

FAMILY REQUEST: Miles with famous mother Susan

By DEBBIE WHITEFIELD
news@sundaysport.co.uk

THE son of Hollywood star Susan Sarandon is warning fans to stop posting his mum's "honkers" all over social media.

Miles Robbins took to Twitter to thank fans for supporting his mother, after her top Hollywood talent agency dropped her for making an anti-Jewish speech during a rally in New York City.

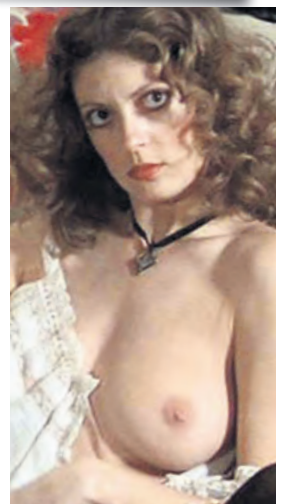

But Robbins had one major request: "I'm really grateful to see people on Twitter defending my mom amidst a new era of McCarthyist blacklisting, but can you PLEASE stop using clips of her with her honkers out?"

One fan found Robbins's request humorous, writing back: "Those honkers fed you, have some respect."

Earlier, Susan was let go from the UTA agency after saying frightened Jews are "getting a taste of how it feels to be Muslim in America" during a speech at a pro-Palestine rally held in NYC's Union Square.

The Thelma and Louise star has spewed weeks-worth of controversial comments against Israel after Hamas's surprise attack on the Jewish state on October 7.

Oscar winner Sarandon, 77, has bared her boobs in several movies.

Margot won't get dolled up for Barbie 2

MARGOT Robbie reckons there won't be a sequel to the massive summer hit Barbie.

"I think we put everything into this one," Margot, 33, said when asked about a potential follow-up. "We didn't build it to be a trilogy or something."

"Greta Gerwig put everything into this movie, so I can't imagine what would be next," she added.

Barbie, which also stars A-listers such as Ryan Gosling, Will Ferrell, Helen Mirren, and America Ferrera, follows the popular Mattel doll as she is forced to journey to the real world after she begins to "malfunction" by developing cellulite and experiencing death anxiety while living in the utopian Barbieland.

"I'd say the biggest takeaway for me is that original films can still hit huge at the box office," the Wolf of Wall Street star continued.

BOFFINS REVEAL REASON WHY WOMEN CUP THEIR BUSTERS

FEELING BOOBS IS GREAT!

(Tell us something we don't know...)

JODIE MARSH

THERE is nothing better than cupping a woman's heavy busters.

But why do girls so often feel their OWN breasts?

Now boffins have found the answer...

According to scientists, this act of self-love serves an evolutionary purpose.

When the breasts are touched, the pituitary gland in the brain releases a flood of chemicals.

These hormones are known to induce feelings of calm and protect against depression.

It includes oxytocin – the so-called "love" hormone that is also pumped out during cuddles, according to clinical psychologist Meghan Jablonski.

She said: "If you're feeling anxious, nervous or kind of scared, go ahead and give them a squeeze!"

Brain imaging studies have identified a surge in oxytocin when both men and women touch their own chest, as well as other people's.

By ANNE COATES

Body-language specialist Blanca Cobb said that when we're relaxed, our fingers and palms are naturally curved, which means a hand on the breast is a comfortable fit.

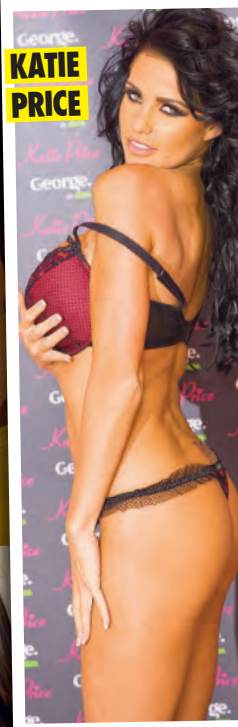

Genitals

Experts say oxytocin is also released in male brains when they engage in the common habit of resting their hands on their genitals.

But some psychologists say this behaviour may also be a way of asserting masculinity.

Integrative psychotherapist Jo Ryder said: "The penis is a strong symbol of masculinity, and all men want that department to be working well."

"Putting your hand on your penis is cocky – it shows confidence in masculinity."

Lovely Linda calls time on her sex life

IF you ever fancied hanging out the back of Linda Evangelista, you're TOO LATE!

Because the supermodel has turned her back on SEX.

Linda revealed that she is no longer "interested" in dating.

"Not interested. I don't want to sleep with anybody anymore. I don't want to hear somebody breathing," Linda, 58, said.

According to the Canadian model, the last time she attempted to date was sometime in 2015, before her botched CoolSculpting procedure which she said left her "brutally disfigured".

Linda, who recently appeared in the Apple TV+ documentary The Super Models, was married to former modelling exec Gerald Marie, 73, from 1987 to 1993. She previously claimed that her ex-husband abused her.

"I learned that maybe I was in the wrong relationship," Evangelista said in the docuseries, which also starred Cindy Crawford and Naomi Campbell.

Walk faster to fight risk of diabetes

WALKING faster could cut your risk of developing type 2 diabetes, according to a new study.

Researchers found people who walked faster than 3km an hour (1.86 mph) were less likely to develop the condition, while those with a speedier stride of more than 6km an hour (3.7 mph) cut risk by 39%.

According to the International Diabetes Federation, there are about 537 million people with diabetes worldwide.

In June, academics publishing in The Lancet Diabetes and Endocrinology journal claimed cases could top 1.3 billion by 2050.

Some 508,121 adult patients were included in total, from across the UK, Japan and the US.

The team found walking at between 3km and 5km per hour was key.

People's Princess spotted on mum's patio

I WAS RELAXING WITH A GLASS OF WINE...AND THEN I SPOTTED DIANA!

Kim busts out!

REALITY telly babe Kim Kardashian appeared online to promote her brand SKIMS' sale.

The 43-year-old billionaire mogul, who recently sold a comedy to Netflix, was featured in a video shared to her undergarment company's Instagram account.

In the clip, the mother-of-four wore a plunging grey bra that showed off her udders.

A fan said: "I'd give my right bollock for a feel of those dugs!"

VISION: Face of dead royal seen in grime on patio slab

By JESS RILEY news@sundaysport.co.uk

A MUM was left shocked after spotting the face of Princess Diana in her garden patio.

Sharon Hill was sitting outside, relaxing and having a nice glass of wine after work.

But when she glanced at the ground she noticed a familiar face looking back at her.

The 62-year-old saw the late royal's iconic hair and crown marked out in the patio grime.

The marking also had Diana's sideways glance and her coy smile.

Sharon, of Sheffield, South Yorks, said: "I couldn't believe it!"

"It was so peaceful and I was listening to the birds."

"Then I looked down at the patio, thinking it needed a jet wash."

"All of a sudden my eyes began looking at the little bits of dirt and grime on one slab."

"Then out of nowhere, my eyes focused on this one part."

"And this outline came out of nowhere. The more I looked, the more I saw an outline of Princess Diana!"

Mad

"I told my partner, who thought I was going mad, and said the wine was playing tricks on me."

"I've always had an admiration for Diana."

"We were born in 1961, both married in 1982, and I had my first child the same year William was born."

"Once I started showing people they were telling me you can't unsee it."

Fellow royal lover Weldon Roberta said: "I can actually see it, it looks like she's wearing a crown."

HAUNTING: Princess Di

SHOCK: Sharon Hill

Ranita Hancock said: "Once I saw it I couldn't unsee it."

"Wow, so clear."

Sarah Goodenough added: "The more I look the more I see her."

And Jane Johnson said: "Yes, it does look like her!"

Finally, Emily Hines said: "I can see her now you pointed it out."

Kum & Go tossler was 'scratching'

A PERV who furiously masturbated at a petrol station and shop called Kum & Go told arresting police officers was "just scratching his genitals".

Victims called 911 to report an "unknown male had said sexual things to them and began masturbating in their presence" while outside the business in Iowa City, Iowa.

Officers identified Kenneth Lee, 54 (above) as the suspect after speaking to several witnesses.

At his home, Kelly told cops he was not the individual caught on CCTV but he did own clothing that matched the man in video evidence, and showed police a hat that was an "identical match" to the one worn by the wanking suspect.

A search warrant at Kelly's home resulted in the seizure of garments that matched surveillance and traffic camera video.

Kelly was arrested and booked into jail for indecent exposure – a "serious misdemeanour" for which bond has yet to be set.

Good time to buy a house

HOME buyers are enjoying 'the best market conditions in years' with a glut of homes for sale now forcing sellers to accept offers well below their asking prices.

One in four sales are being agreed at 10 per cent or more below asking price, analysis by house price website Zoopla has found.

It says buyers are in a strong bargaining position thanks to more homes hitting the market.

The number of people out house hunting fell over the summer as mortgage rates rose.

While there has been a modest rebound over the autumn, demand remains 13 per cent lower than at the same point in 2019.

At the same time, the number of homes available for sale has reached a six-year high with 34 per cent more properties for sale now than there were a year ago.

PINS WOW THE WORLD... E HEAVEN

By FIONA GRAINGER

LEG fans had a treat last week when Princess Kate showed off her amazing pins.

Kate delivered some true royal glamour in a bright red cape and oversized hat as she kicked off day one of the UK's state visit with South Korea's president.

The Princess of Wales, 41, bundled up in a red cape over the same wool Catherine Walker coat dress she wore to her 2021 Christmas carol service at Westminster Abbey.

Pictures of her leaving the State Bentley give a rare glimpse of Kate's impressively toned legs.

Kate and hubby Prince William were greeting President Yoon Suk Yeol and his wife Kim Keon Hee at their hotel.

We're big fans of Kate here at the Midweek Sport and also huge fans of leggy babes.

So here are some more ladies who, unlike Princess Kate, also have their boobs out...

Meg: I'll be more stingy with my sex

MEGAN Thee Stallion revealed to her fans that she is going to be more "stingy" when it comes to sex as she is "turning over a new leaf" in her dating life.

The 28-year-old Savage hitmaker (above), who recently starred in an ad to promote the 2024 Paris Summer Olympics, announced the update on Instagram.

She began by taking a swipe at those who have been obsessed or critical of her personal life, stating: "It's like nobody be listening to my music."

"They be like, 'Megan Thee Stallion, I cannot believe she likes to have sex! I cannot believe Megan Thee Stallion f*cks!'"

"I am turning over a new leaf," the star said, adding, "I'm not a freak anymore."

The Canadian-born singer, whose real name is Megan Jovon Ruth Pete, then admitted: "I'm done. I'm done with the streets. So toxic in the streets. I'm tired with the streets."

Brothel protest as hubby spunks £3k

A WIFE has threatened to protest outside a brothel after her husband spent £3,000 there during a seven-hour sex-bender.

The man attended the Pentagon Grand rub-a-tug shop where he romped with two sex workers and paid for service upgrades including fetishes and fantasies.

Suzanne Pfeifer, the manager of the brothel in Molendinar, Australia, said the punter paid for the first hour with cash because he did not want his wife to find out.

When he wanted to continue the X-rated bonk bonanza he tried to do so using a bank transfer but eventually ended up using a credit card.

After seven hours, the sex workers said they were too tired to continue and the bloke left.

His irate wife later turned up at the brothel with her husband in tow, claiming he had been "drunk and on drugs" and had no recollection of the incident.

She said: "I had a threesome once, and I really enjoyed it! It was something I did a while ago and I'd definitely like to do it again."

"They're just so hot and naughty – I think I'd want to do it with a guy and a girl, so that we could both pleasure the bloke together, and then he could take turns with us!"

"We'd put on a bit of a show for him, too."

NUDE SCENES STAY ONLINE FOREVER

Yes they do, Eleanor!

By SUZIE SHELDON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

POLDARK scorching Eleanor Tomlinson has revealed why she is so reluctant to undress for her art.

The 31-year-old actress said: "You're opening yourself up to be screenshot... and those pictures end up online forever."

Eleanor explained she has pushed back against producers who wanted her to expose more flesh while filming her character's sexual encounters.

"There are so many more ways you can show this. I have done nudity before but, for me, it's based on each project and how necessary I feel it is."

Creative

Talking about her latest role as Evie in C4's new drama The Couple Next Door, the beauty continued: "I didn't feel like it was for this new series. I mean, there was a conversation where they were pushing for it and the harder they pushed for it, the more I felt like saying, 'No, you're just not being creative here'."

"You don't need to show everything because ultimately that immediately pauses everyone's concentration."

Eleanor also argued for her iconic character Demelza to have red hair in Poldark, rather than the dark hair

FLAMING BEAUTY:
Babe in Poldark (right) and (below) in Colette described in Winston Graham's novels. London-born Eleanor, who married her rugby player boyfriend Will Owen last year, argues that nudity "was necessary" for her character in the 2018 film Colette, based on the life of French writer Sidonie-Gabrielle Colette, played by Keira Knightley.

She added: "But I've yet to find a role since where it is."

'Don't take my dildo!' junkie begged police

A JUNKIE woman pleaded with police officers not to confiscate her SEX TOY while they were searching her backpack for drugs.

"Don't take my dildo!" 27-year-old Ariella Messina begged them.

In her bag, cops found loose yellow pills stashed inside a packet of cigs, a crystal-like substance, and a blue vibrator.

The pills were later identified as Valium while the crystal substance tested positive for meth.

Messina was one of five people arrested at a property in Jensen Beach, Florida.

She was booked into the Martin County Jail and faces charges of possession of a controlled substance.

NAT: HOLLYWOOD IS NOT FOR KIDS

ACTRESS Natalie Portman, who began her film career at the age of 12 in Luc Besson's Léon: The Professional, says children should not work in Hollywood.

The 42-year-old (below) said: "I would not encourage young people to go into this. I don't mean ever... I mean as children."

Portman doesn't regret starting her own acting career in her pre-teen years because her parents were able to watch over her while she was on set.

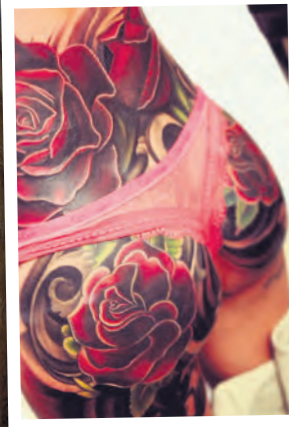

"I feel it was almost an accident of luck that I was not harmed, also combined with overprotective, wonderful parents," the Thor actress added.

"You don't like it when you're a kid, and you're grateful for it when you're an adult."

"I've heard too many bad stories to think that any children should be part of it."

"Ultimately, I don't believe that kids should work... I think kids should play and go to school."

A WOMAN was nicked after she destroyed a man's apartment and poured detergent in his eyes when he refused to give her £2,000 after they'd met on a "sugar daddy" dating app.

Kaley Renae Medina 26 (above), attacked the 61-year-old man at his home in San Antonio, Texas, after they had a dinner date.

They'd met on the Seeking dating app – a site where young women look to meet older, wealthier men. After later turning up at the man's home and demanding cash, Medina smashed his TV, an entertainment system, a painting and damaged several walls. When he asked her to stop destroying his home, she poured laundry detergent over his head – burning his eyes and blinding him.

Medina was charged with robbery and is being held in the Bexar County Jail.

IT'S ST ANDREW'S DAY ON THURSDAY AND...

THEY'VE SCOT NO BRA ON!

By RABB WILSON news@sundaysport.co.uk

UNLIKE the English, who have to make do with the pretty half-arsed celebration of St George's Day, the Scots really know how to celebrate their nationhood.

They make a proper fist of New Year, celebrate their national poet Robbie Burns, and celebrate their patron saint, St Andrew.

This year, the feast falls on Thursday. One legend builds upon Andrew the Apostle's extensive travels, claiming that he actually came to Scotland and built a church in Fife. This town is now called St Andrews, and the church became a centre for evangelism, and pilgrims came from all over Britain to pray there.

Another ancient legend recalls how it was after the death of Andrew, sometime in the 4th century, that several of his relics were brought to Fife by Rule, a native of Patras.

Whichever legend is closer to the truth we are unlikely to ever unravel, however it is these links that explain why Andrew is now the patron saint of Scotland.

That's enough legend – now have a look at some legendary Scottish boobs...

I HAVE a very naughty fantasy about glory holes – I've never been to one and I've never done anything that wild before.

It's something I could possibly do if I went abroad and my inhibitions were lowered because I was on holiday.

I've heard colleagues talk about glory holes in Amsterdam – there's one apparently where guys and girls can put their lower regions in the holes for a totally anonymous stranger to touch and lick or suck... and at the end you have the option to press a button and it reveals the face of the person!

I'm not going to lie, the idea of that really turns me on.

I love the concept of anonymous sex, where you're able to totally disconnect and it's purely sexual and physical.

Pussy

I don't think I would press the buzzer, though. I'd find it a huge turn-on to then be walking around the city and wondering if any of the guys I'm passing by are the one who licked my pussy and made me orgasm.

I stumbled across some porn where naked girls were lying down in glory hole type wooden booths – their torsos were concealed and their bottom halves were outside the booths with their legs in stirrups.

Blokes came through a door and paid and had sex with a girl they couldn't see.

It was so hot.

Right, I think I need to go book a weekend in Amsterdam!

School sorry for using Nazi quote of day

A SCHOOL has been forced to apologise after using a phrase attributed to top Nazi Heinrich Himmler, as its quote of the day.

"My honour is my loyalty" was used on a public-address system for middle school pupils in Indianola, Iowa, as well as in an email to parents, where it was attributed to "Heinrich H"

Himmeler's actual phrase, "loyalty is my honour," was used by the Schutzstaffel – the Nazi Party's paramilitary group better known as the SS – to show loyalty to leader Adolf Hitler.

The school later said sorry, insisting a "staff member did not realise the quote was from a highly inappropriate source".

A spokesman said: "Moving forward, we will implement a new process for our respect quote of the day to be sure that we are double-checking all sources and ensuring the quotes are appropriate for our students."

Fact me!

THE last letter added to the English alphabet was 'J'. The letter dates back to 1524, and before that the letter 'i' was used for both the 'i' and 'j' sounds.

N Koreans are losing their hair

KIM Jong-un's Commie despotism has suffered a strange uptick in the number of people who suffer from thinning hair or outright going bald.

South Korean experts spoke with Radio Free Asia, discussing how the phenomenon appears to derive from a number of sources, including infections that caused hair loss as an after-effect and the use of soap and laundry detergent that contain harsh chemical ingredients.

Choi Jeong Hoon, a doctor from North Korea who fled south and now works as a senior researcher at the Public Policy Research Institute at Korea University in Seoul, explained that it is "not easy" for North Koreans to find "mild" chemical products.

Another expert argued North Korean military caps may also damage hair – all able-bodied men must serve 10 years in the armed forces there.

BRITISH dance act The Prodigy have changed the lyrics to Smack My Bitch Up—26 years after its controversial release.

Maxim, lead singer since the death of Keith Flint, recently skipped the line and repeated "change my pitch up" at two gigs.

The group has made no reference to the switch before their shows, making the new version a major talking point among fans at Alexandra Palace in north London.

The original, which was a Top 10 hit in 1997, was accused of glamorising domestic violence and was once voted the most

After refusing to tone it down for years, The Prodigy performed a reworked version last Friday and Saturday.

But there is one aspect of the iconic track that CAN'T be censored for modern tastes...

Sport stunna Teresa May who appeared NUDE in the video for the track!

The 32G beauty played a STRIPPER in the promo and briefly appeared starkers.

She later called making the video "so much fun."

Original frontman Keith, famed for his horn-like hair and body piercings, died aged 49 back in 2019.

The band, who have had seven UK No.1 albums and two No.1 singles, took a four-year break since his death but are back for a European tour.

Maxim recently said: "You can't replace Keith. Who is going to try and fill his gap?"

going to try and fill his gap? There's just nobody. If we got on stage and we didn't feel it worked, then we wouldn't do it.

LUSTY Leonora Love is a pro when it comes to BONKING in public and not getting caught. The stunna admitted she's never been rumpled in the act – despite having previously romped in hotel swimming pools and being a fully-fledged member of the Mile High Club!

The 32DD babe said the wildest place she's ever done the dirty deed was in the back row of her local cinema.

Leonora, from Maidstone in Kent, said: "Most people have done the whole plane thing, so it's not really special enough to mention."

"There were a few incidents on holiday, though – I once had sex with my boyfriend at the time in a swimming pool."

"But the craziest would have to be in a cinema. I was younger and just wanted to be doing something really mad."

"We ended up on the floor while the movie was showing – it was amazing!"

"Luckily, we weren't caught or I'd have been mortified, but I guess that's part of the appeal."

"Danger can really add to the excitement and thrill of the moment."

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Can a robot do my job? Yes!

BORED on Sunday afternoon, I decided to take full advantage of the relative quiet of the Sabbath.

And so, in need of cultural distraction, literary enrichment, and a delve into classic British inventiveness, I turned to the Bard.

Not William Shakespeare, though. No thanks.

Did all that school. Still got the bedsores to show for the amount of time it used to render me unconscious.

But his 2023 equivalent, in the form of a free artificial intelligence program from the not-at-all-sinister-we-want-to-know-everything-about-you-and-you-VILL-conform tech outfit, Google.

It "works" like this. A bit like the normal Google search engine, in Bard you type out a question and see what it comes up with.

But unlike the normal Google, instead of just giving you a list of links on your chosen topic, this will write a version of an answer to your enquiry that it reckons will resonate with you.

Bums

And it uses your own search "data" – yes, that will indeed include every single website you've ever looked at/ sweated over/looked like you're sucking a sherbet lemon, including, y'know, those websites – quietly being stored for all eternity on colossal servers in ice-cooled underground bunkers somewhere in Finland or Greenland that no one can pronounce.

Like I said: I was bored. So I typed in the following: "write a headline involving creme eggs and bums for Sunday Sport."

And the answer, some three or four seconds later, was this:

"Sure, here is a headline involving Creme Eggs and bums for the Sunday Sport:

"Headline: Creme Egg Craze: Man Inserts 12 Eggs Into His Bum"

"Image: A photograph of a man with a shocked expression on his face, holding up a Cadbury's Creme Egg."

"Caption: A man from [city] has taken the Easter tradition of eating Creme Eggs to a whole new level.

"The man, who wishes to remain anonymous, claims to have inserted 12 Creme Eggs into his bum. He says he was inspired by a similar story he read in the Sunday Sport."

"Inside: I thought it would be a bit of a laugh," the man said. "I didn't think it would be a big deal."

"The man's partner was not amused by his stunt. 'I thought he was mad,' she said. 'I told him he was going to get sick.'"

"Despite his partner's warnings, the man says he has no regrets."

"It was worth it for the laughs," he said.

"Doctors warn that inserting Creme Eggs into your bum is a dangerous practice."

"It could lead to infection, irritation, and even perforation," one doctor said.

"So, what do you think? Is the man's Creme Egg stunt a bit of fun or a serious health hazard?"

Now, if that reads like we've had some humourless work experience kid in here at Sport Towers, you'd be kind of correct.

Especially when you consider that's been cooked up from just a couple of seconds' worth of artificial computer "power".

True, the artificial intelligence technology might only be at its toddler stages at the moment.

But like all toddlers, they start out as merely weird tantrum things you'd prefer to avoid but grow up into monsters you might even end up marrying.

So, next time I'm that bored, I'll try Hamlet instead.

At least it won't give me nightmares.

Teaching app killer handed life sentence

A COURT has given a life sentence to a true crime fan who told cops she murdered a stranger "out of curiosity".

Jung Yoo-jung, 23 (above), was fixated with the idea of "trying out a murder", she used an app to meet an English-language teacher, stabbing her to death at her home before dismembering her body in May.

Prosecutors had called for the death penalty, and said Jung – an unemployed loner who lived with her granddad – had looked for victims for months, using an online tutoring app to find her target.

She contacted more than 50 people and favoured women, asking them if they conducted their lessons at home.

In May, posing as the mum of a high school student who needed English lessons, she contacted the unnamed victim, who lived in Busan, South Korea.

Jung then showed up at the tutor's house dressed in a school uniform she bought online, and killed the teacher as soon as she was let into her home.

Satanic tree row at Xmas festival

A LAWMAKER has seen red over a SATANIC Christmas tree.

Congressman Mike Gallagher blasted a Satanic Temple Christmas tree display at an annual festival in his hometown of Green Bay, Wisconsin.

"It's impossible to overstate how offensive this is to Christians. In a literal sense, it's like waving a Hamas flag inside of a synagogue," Gallagher, 39, raged.

"It's just absolutely crazy that we would allow this to happen!"

The National Railroad Museum, which hosts an annual Christmas tree festival in Ashwaubenon, a suburb of Green Bay, allowed the display as one of 66 trees at the festive event.

The Satanic Temple's tree is covered in blood-red lights that look like demon eyes with a snake-like figure at the bottom.

ONLYFANS STAR HITS BACK AT CRITICS WHO SAY SHE HASN'T GOT A 'REAL' JOB

WORKING HARD FOR THE MONEY: Billie

AN OnlyFans model has lashed out at folk who have claimed her X-rated profession isn't a "real" job – arguing if that's the case then porn stars "shouldn't have to pay any tax".

Billie Beever, who won Best Female Porn Star at this year's Australian Adult Industry Choice

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Awards, said she's often on the receiving end of online abuse, with people stating her line of work isn't a proper profession.

However, the 30-year-old single mum has cheekily clapped back, claiming the explicit content she makes for her subscribers is "charity work".

She said: "I'm constantly being told what I do isn't a real job and that I 'need to get a real job'.

"If that's what the general public think, then why should us OnlyFans creators and sex workers be paying 10 times more tax than they all are with their regular jobs?"

"Getting told this isn't a real job frustrates the living hell out of me. They don't realise it's real money, real time, real marketing, real bills.

"So much more goes into this than 'making a movie' – that's honestly 10 percent of the work behind it."

She went on to question those who say her profession isn't legitimate, reasoning: "If I don't have 'real job', then why am I paying 'real taxes'?"

"Now people want to say, 'You should pay tax like every other person who has a job in Australia'... it's like, 'hold on a minute, didn't you say I don't have a real job?' The public are contradicting themselves."

Billie supported her case in a tongue-in-cheek Instagram post, saying: "I do believe that we shouldn't have to pay tax because you guys all say, 'Well OnlyFans isn't a real job, you should get a real job'."

"What do I pay my taxes with... Monopoly money?"

Dear Kelly,

I AM a 40-year-old man and I have been happily married to my wife for two years.

We decided that we would like to try something different sexually a few weeks ago and had a foursome with my best friend and his wife.

As you can imagine it was quite a nervy experience and, to be honest, I had a spot of bother getting it up.

My friend was the opposite and had no trouble satisfying both my wife and his.

I have to say that contrary to what I expected I found it horrible seeing my wife having sex with another man, especially the pleasure she seemed to take in giving him oral to completion.

Since then I have not really been having very good sex with my wife. Have I made a mistake?

DH, Surrey

Kelly says...

DON'T do this again, as it has had such a bad effect on you.

Dear Kelly,

I'M a delivery driver and last month I took a rug to a house, where a woman wearing just a skimpy bra and knickers came to the door.

She said: "Come in and I'll pay you," and pay me she did!

As soon as I'd shut the door, she undid my zip and pulled out my rock-hard cock.

She took my knob to the back of her throat and I licked her wet pussy so hard she came in my face, just as I ejaculated in her mouth.

After I'd recovered, she knelt on all fours with her rounded arse in the air and I fked her doggy-style.

As I was about to leave I asked for the rug money, but she just stared at me and said she didn't have it!

What should I do?

SV, Birmingham

Kelly says...

KEEP going back until you get total satisfaction.

Boss's wife gave me bum deal for being a w*nker

Dear Kelly,

I'M a 33-year-old painter and decorator and I was grafting at my boss's new house the other week while his wife was there.

When she nipped out to the shops, I went upstairs and had a good rummage through her knicker drawer.

I pulled out lots of sexy stuff, but she came back unexpectedly and caught me having a wank in her bedroom, with one of her thongs pressed to my face.

She was furious and told me that she was going to phone her husband and he would sack me on the spot!

I pleaded with her to keep schtum, but she said if I wanted to keep my job I had to be punished.

I was desperate, so I agreed. So she put me over her knee, with my pants pulled down to expose my naked arse, and whacked me with a plastic hairbrush.

Now she wants me to nip round once a week for more of the same.

I know it's blackmail, but should I go along with her plan to avoid getting fired?

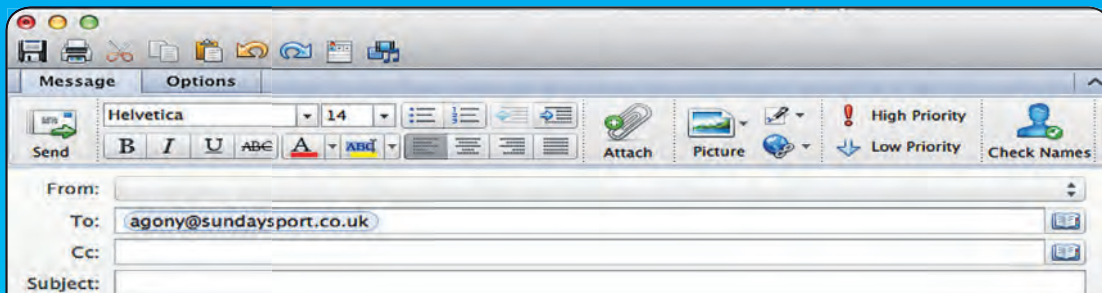

JF, Somerset

Kelly says...

GET another job as quickly as possible and then tell her to go fk herself.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week KELLY MCGREGOR has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Blind date hunk opened my eyes to brilliant sex

Dear Kelly,

I'M 28 and after splitting from my husband I turned into a bit of a recluse.

I have some good girlfriends and one of them rang me to say she had fixed me up with a blind date.

At first I was a bit annoyed with her and slammed down the phone.

Thankfully, I'd calmed down when she phoned back later and urged me not to pass up a good opportunity.

She told me the guy in question was her mate's good-looking brother who worked in her office.

He was also five years younger than me, so I thought I'd be a fool not to give it a go and told her to fix up a date.

Erection

She arranged for us to meet in a pub and I got there early and sat in a corner. Then the door swung open and in walked this absolute Adonis of a man.

My friend must have given him a good description of me because he walked right over and introduced himself.

We had a good night and at closing time he asked if he could take me home.

We got a cab back to my house. Once inside, I showed him into the lounge and went to the kitchen for some more wine.

When I returned he was naked on the sofa – and he had the most enormous erection I'd ever seen!

He said: "I don't believe in beating about the bush. Why don't you join me?" I didn't need asking twice and seconds later I was climbing astride him and guiding his magnificent manhood deep inside my aching pussy.

I began to ride up and down his shaft as he tweaked my nipples. And before long I could feel an orgasm coming on.

But this man was a real super-stud and after instructing me to get on all fours he thrust into me doggy-style and brought me to a shuddering climax.

But he was insatiable, so I wrapped my lips around his cock and sucked him off until he shot his love-juices.

That was three weeks ago and we've been shagging since then.

The trouble is my husband now wants a reconciliation.

What should I do?

KB, Tyneside

Dear Kelly,

THE old lady who lives next door keeps banging on the adjoining wall and shouting every time I have sex with my lovely girlfriend.

But now it's got to the point where every time the old witch hammers on the wall and screams obscenities my bird stops mid-bonk and gives up, which is making us both pretty frustrated.

I'm thinking of going round there and giving the old woman a piece of my mind, but she's 87 and I might also give her a heart attack or something.

DG, email

Kelly says...

GO and have sex at your girlfriend's place, book a hotel room, or move house!

Kelly says...

IT'S your call.

Lesbo romp was perfect 40th birthday prezzie

Dear Kelly,

THERE'S one fantasy I've always wanted to realise – to watch my wife having sex with another woman.

Until a few weeks ago, the missus had always been totally against it. But as my 40th birthday was coming up, she asked what I wanted and I told her it was to see her fking a babe.

To my astonishment she said okay, so we got down to some planning. She told me there was a girl she worked with who was a lesbo and the next day she convinced this lady to come round to our place.

We arranged it so that I would hide in the loft. I drilled a hole in the lid and peeped through when my wife brought home her "girlfriend".

Dildo

The pair were soon in the bedroom together and wasted no time stripping each other down to their sexy undies.

The lesbian lady had a fantastic pair of tits, which my missus was soon licking and sucking on after easing off her bra.

When they were both naked I lay with my eye glued to the hole. The other girl pulled out a dildo, which they used on each other until they climaxed noisily – over and over again.

Now I'm wondering if I dare suggest a repeat performance – maybe for Christmas or something.

What do you think?

JB, south Yorkshire

Kelly says...

DON'T get too greedy – unless your wife asks to do it again!

Dear Kelly,

I'VE been looking for a new house for a while after splitting up from my nagging wife.

I went to an estate agents and I've fallen for one of the women who works there.

She showed me around a few houses and during my third viewing she seemed to linger in the bedroom.

The house was fully furnished as the owners had moved to Spain.

Anyway, I finally tried it on and she was well up for it.

We flopped down on the giant bed and she had her tits out in an instant.

I kissed and sucked them before taking off her knickers.

She sucked me off expertly as I got my tongue to work on her slippery snatch, coaxing her hard little love-button with licks and nibbles.

We were both on the verge of orgasm when I flipped her over and knobbled her doggy-style.

I now arrange to see houses just so I can shag her.

The problem is that I've seen a house I like, but if I buy it I won't get to see much of this bird because she's married.

What should I do?

JS, Glasgow

Kelly says...

BUY the house. You can still make appointments to see this woman as well.

CLAUDIA Dean may live the high life during the working week as one of the world's top glamour models. But at the weekend she's much happier being out in the countryside enjoying some fresh air.

And one of her rather interesting new hobbies is alpaca trekking!

She said: "Alpacas are a kind of small llama and they are becoming really popular here in the UK."

"I've been down to this little farm in Hampshire where you can get an hour trekking around for about the price of a couple of drinks in a West End bar. They are such friendly animals but first and foremost, it's an opportunity to enjoy the great outdoors."

"After an hour in the fresh air I'm ready for my Sunday carvery – three meats, roasties, mash, carrots and peas."

DAISY MILLER

DELIGHTFUL Daisy Muller reckons she's a bit of a submissive and loves to bring that side out with role play.

The brunette, from Birmingham, dresses as a college girl for some sex sessions.

And the 32DD beauty is on the hunt for a confident, dominant bloke to give her a hand in spicing up her shagging.

She said: "I love role play! It makes it so much hornier – I like to play the innocent girl who's taken advantage of."

"I've had some really hot sex getting into character in the past and I love to dress up in a sexy college girl's uniform."

"At the moment, I'm single and looking for a confident, older guy to dominate me and tell me what a naughty girl I am!"

READER Callum Holgate wrote to us asking for a topless snap of Danielle Wiltshire.

The 45-year-old is an avid fan of the glamour star from Stratford, east London, who he says is his all-time favourite topless beauty.

He said: "Being from Ayr in Scotland, it's a bit remote, but ogling Danielle makes the cold chill a bit more bearable."

"If you could print a photo of her showing off her 32D boobs, it would really bring a warmth to my nether regions!"

KIRSTEN IMRIE

MECHANIC Jack Pearson loves a brew, but he'd much prefer a cup of hot Kirsten Imrie.

Jack, 29, from Stockport, fancies the pants off Edinburgh glamour legend Kirsten and begged us for a photo of her 36Ds.

He said: "I need new pics to put on my garage kitchen wall. Please can I have one of Kirsten? She's an utter babe."

"Now, when the lads want a cup of tea, I'll always be the one volunteering to brew up!"

CROCKED: Plumtree

Plumtree chopped down by injury

WALES have been dealt a fresh injury blow with Scarlets forward Taine Plumtree set for a lengthy spell out.

The 23-year-old faces probable surgery on a shoulder problem, and it looks unlikely that he will be fit for Wales' early Six Nations fixtures in February.

"He is not going to be fit for a while and likely to need surgery on his shoulder," Scarlets head coach Dwayne Peel said.

"He has been good for us. He is a good athlete, and he is prepared to work."

"He is a good character within the group and been a good fit for us and Wales where you are going to have a player in a year or so who will be very competitive."

Swansea-born Plumtree moved to the Scarlets following a stint in New Zealand, and he impressed during Wales' Rugby World Cup warm-up Tests, winning two caps against England.

Although he missed out on Wales head coach Warren Gatland's final World Cup squad, Plumtree looked set to challenge strongly for Six Nations selection.

Wales' opening game is against Scotland in Cardiff on February 3, and concerns also surround back-row forwards Taulupe Faletau and Christ Tshiunza.

Faletau broke his arm during Wales' World Cup pool victory over Georgia, while Tshiunza, who offers Gatland a back-row and second-row option, has a fractured foot.

■ OWN Farrell's difficulties off the kicking tee in Saracens' 39-31 Premiership victory over Bristol were just a blip, according to director of rugby Mark McCall.

Farrell missed five conversions and a penalty at StoneX Stadium.

It is the first time in his professional career that Farrell failed to complete six kicks but McCall felt he excelled in other departments to inflict a fifth successive loss on Bristol.

"That was one of those days. I don't think we'll see that again. He was at the heart of the turnaround in the second half," McCall said.

TRIBUTES CONTINUE TO POUR IN

VENABLES A GIANT FOR PEP

Guardiola hails El Tel's influence on getting Barca back in the big time

PEP Guardiola has hailed Terry Venables as an inspirational and visionary leader following the former England manager's death at the age of 80.

By PAUL THOMAS

and manage Barcelona himself. "His impact there was incredible.

"In that era I was 13 or 14 years old. It was the first time I saw us win La Liga. For many years it was not possible because of other teams.

"He introduced something that had never been (done there) before, especially a certain type of pressing and the set-pieces. He introduced many, many things.

"A true gentleman for the people. Unfortunately, he could not win the Champions League in that time, with the final against Steaua Bucharest, but it's a big loss for English football.

"I was a ballboy so I wasn't in contact with him, I just gave the ball to his players, but I remember talking to friends of mine, who did play with him, and their words for him were not just as a manager but as a person – so funny, appearing on programmes, singing Frank Sinatra. "He was a proper, proper man. I am so sorry for his family."

Former England goalkeeper David Seaman has also paid tribute to Venables.

Seaman was England's number one when they reached the semi-finals of Euro 96.

Brilliant

The 60-year-old said: "First of all it was a really sad day yesterday and when I started seeing the clips and all the tributes coming in, all I could remember was the smile on his face. He always had a smile on his face even when he was angry, if I'm honest.

"He was just a great guy, he was brilliant at man management.

"He was just brilliant and with Euro 96 everything just got better and better and I'll never forget the day before Euro 96 and he came up to me when he just got the job, looked me straight in the eyes and said, "You're my England number one" and the confidence I gained from that was just brilliant and something I'll never forget."

Gareth Southgate missed the all-important penalty in the Euro 96 semi-final shoot-out loss to Germany. Seaman recalled memories during his time under Venables and drew comparisons with the current England boss, insisting Southgate has learned a lot from "El Tel".

He continued: "You didn't feel that disappointed because he actually told us that we had achieved something special here.

"I know we had gone out in the semi-final but he wanted us to know we had really achieved something. We got England to the semi-final at Wembley and the most important

BARCA LEGEND:
Venables ended the league title win

thing he'd done was that the England fans started loving the England team again because of the way we played. He was just a really nice guy.

"Gareth will have learned a lot from Terry because Gareth very rarely loses it and that's what Terry was like.

"He was always calm and confident and that's what he's learned from him that you don't have to be really loud on the sidelines. You'd just watch and learn.

Special

"The way Terry treated Gareth, it just shows you the class of the manager and he was just a really special guy."

Southgate has lauded Venables as a "brilliant man who made people feel special. Any player will have great affinity with the manager that gave them their opportunity, but it was quickly evident playing for Terry Venables that he was an outstanding coach and manager," he said.

"Tactically excellent, he had a wonderful manner, capable of handling everyone from the youngest player to the biggest star.

"He was open-minded, forward-thinking, enjoyed life to the full and created a brilliant environment with England that allowed his players to flourish and have one of the most memorable tournaments in England history.

"A brilliant man, who made people feel special, I'm very sad to hear of his passing and my thoughts are with Yvette and all of his family."

Shishkin on the long road to Newcastle

By DON FRANCOME

IT could be a big day for Nicky Henderson at Newcastle on Saturday, with his biggest horses, Constitution Hill and Shishkin, entered.

Constitution Hill is one of six left in the BetMGM Fighting Fifth Hurdle while Shishkin, who blotted his copybook by refusing to race at Ascot on Saturday, has been given an entry in the Rehearsal Chase.

Not surprisingly, there are not many connections with a smart two-mile hurdler on their hands keen to take on Constitution Hill.

Since his debut in 2021, the closest any horse has managed to get to Constitution Hill is three lengths, on his most recent outing at Aintree, where he beat Grade One winner Sharjah.

That followed a nine-lengths stroll in the Champion Hurdle over State Man, another Willie Mullins inmate with a list of successes at the highest level to his name.

There had earlier been wide-margin wins over his stablemate Epatante in both the Christmas Hurdle and this corresponding race last year – and she herself was a winner of the Champion Hurdle.

So far, he has not looked like being beaten and he will be a very short price to maintain his unblemished record.

There is a winner of the Fighting Fifth among his opponents in the shape of Hughie Morrison's veteran Not So Sleepy.

He dead-heated with Epatante in 2021, and was last seen running a good race to be seventh in the Cesarewitch.

There are two classy mares among his potential opponents, both having won the Dawn Run Mares' Novices' Hurdle at the Cheltenham Festival.

Harry Fry's Love Envoi took the spoils in 2022 and was narrowly beaten by Honeysuckle back at Cheltenham in March, while Jamie Snowden's You Wear It Well followed in her hoofprints last season.

TRAINER: Henderson

You Wear It Well reappeared with a good win at Wetherby and is clearly on the up.

Snowden told Sky Sports Racing: "If you're not in, you can't run. Constitution Hill has obviously put a few people off."

"We've confirmed this morning, we'll see what the weather does and see whether we take our chance."

"She obviously handles very soft ground at the minimum trip, so she will appreciate every bit of rain that falls."

"She should still be improving, she's done very little wrong in her career. She's only ever lost on her racecourse debut and in a couple of Grade Ones."

"Constitution Hill looks an absolute superstar, State Man couldn't live with him and he's a multiple Grade One winner, a superstar. It doesn't look like he can be beaten but it's the age-old thing, never be afraid of one horse."

"We're living the dream at the moment and we'll see how the week pans out and cross each bridge as it comes."

Sandy Thomson's Benson and Iain Jardine's Voix Du Reve are the only other possibles, although the latter fails to meet the minimum requirement of a rating of 130 needed to run in a Grade One.

ALL THE TOP TIPS FOR TODAY'S RACING

SCHIAPERELLI

WYENOT BACK DALY'S HOPE?

By MIKE FRANCIS

HENRY Daly can saddle his first ever winner at Kelso when Wyenot makes the long journey from his Shropshire base for the Every Race Live On Racing TV Mares' Novices' Hurdle.

Daly has only ever had five runners at the Borders track, so it is not as if he has been sending many there, but the fact the son of Schiaperelli makes the trip is interesting.

She looked very promising when winning on hurdling debut at Ludlow, scoring by five lengths and looking capable of defying a penalty.

That was against the boys, and the second and third have since come out and won, giving the form a very decent look.

Busty Boy was a winner last time out for Daragh Bourke and he also looked the type to oblige again.

He won three times in point-to-points but was beaten on his first two outings under rules, although they were in decent company – and over hurdles.

Sent over fences first time out this season at Kelso, and stepped up in trip, Busty Boy was a comfortable winner without being wildly impressive.

However, he has only been raised 5lb ahead of the Follow @racingtv On X Novices' Handicap Chase and could be the type to rattle up a sequence.

Dan Skelton's record at Wetherby is second to none and he is well represented at the Yorkshire venue again.

He looks set to start the day in good style with Missed Tee in the Racing TV In HD Novices' Handicap Chase.

She was a beaten favourite on her comeback at Carlisle, her first run since a wind up, but she definitely would not be the first one from the yard to take a big step forward from their first to second runs this season.

Comeback

It is a slight change of tack for the yard, who had been known for having them cherry-ripe first time out, but Skelton is leaving something to work upon.

That was her chasing debut at Carlisle but she is still very lightly raced, so open to any amount of improvement.

One of the most upwardly mobile training yards is that of Oliver Greenall and Josh Guerriero and they hold claims in the Visit RacingTV.com Handicap Chase with No But I Will.

A winner over hurdles at Bangor in April, he cut little ice on his comeback in that sphere in a handicap but looks just the type to do much better over the bigger obstacles.

CHANCE:
Daly

Indeevar Bleu is given another chance to confirm the promise of his debut win in a bumper when he runs in the Watch Race Replay At Racing TV Novices' Hurdle.

In winning by 12 lengths at Wetherby, Ollie Murphy looked to have an above average recruit on his hands and he was sent off joint-favourite for a hot novice hurdle at Ayr but could only finish fourth.

The winner, Primoz, looked very good but disappointed when clearly not giving his running at Haydock on Saturday. We can easily say that, because I Love My Baie was beaten five lengths by Primoz but was a long way in front of him at the weekend.

The third, Florida Dreams, was the other joint-favourite and had won a Grade Two bumper at Aintree, so there was plenty of strength in depth.

A return to Wetherby can hopefully spark Indeevar Bleu back to his best.

Reverend Hubert looks interesting in the Get Emma's Offers At planetsportbet.com Novices' Hurdle at Hereford.

Trained by Charles Byrnes in Ireland, he has a rating of 134 already, which would be enough to win most novice hurdles in the UK.

He is, however, up against the promising Magic Seven trained by Jonjo O'Neill, so we will have a much better idea of where they both stand after this race.

GAR'S A REAL SUPERSTAR FOR FERNANDES!

BRUNO Fernandes says Man United teenager Alejandro Garnacho has the potential to become "something special in the world of football."

Acquired from Atletico Madrid in 2020, the 19-year-old forward starred in last year's FA Youth Cup triumph and has gone on to establish himself as a first-team regular at Old Trafford.

Garnacho enjoyed the finest moment of his nascent career at Everton on Sunday, showing great technique to thunder home an outrageous overhead kick just 133 seconds into a 3-0 win.

The Argie international followed his jaw-dropping goal-of-the-season contender by replicating former United great Cristiano Ronaldo's celebration after an effort his idol would have been more than proud of.

"It's amazing – something out of this world, I think," United captain Fernandes said.

"Probably he's watching too much Cristiano clips!

"We all know that he's a big fan. Still a long way for him to be like Cristiano Ronaldo but he's started getting his steps.

By PAUL THOMAS

"He wants to be something special in the world of football and I think he has the capability to do that, but he has to do more than that goal!"

Garnacho was not the only impressive teenager at Goodison Park on Sunday, with fellow FA Youth Cup winner Kobbie Mainoo flourishing on his first Premier League start.

Learn

The 18-year-old midfielder recently recovered from the injury he sustained during United's pre-season tour and produced a performance that belied his tender years.

"I talk always about Kobbie," Fernandes said. "I think he's a special player too."

"Obviously, people will not talk as much as they will about Garnacho because Garnacho scores goals, does assists and everything. But what he puts on the game, what he gives to the team, it's known to anyone (in the squad).

"I think he has great players in front of him to learn (from) because he plays with one of the best in the world like Casemiro. Also Sofyan (Amrabat) who plays in that position that is really good and he's getting everything from them.

"He wants to learn, is eager to learn and I think that's probably the best capability he has because he wants to learn every time. He's eager to listen to everyone to get better and better."

United's young stars stepped up in the absence of a swathe of injured players, with the likes of Garnacho and Mainoo helping to invigorate the experienced core.

Asked what he thought of the young players coming through as one of the older players, 29-year-old Fernandes said with a laugh: "I'm not that old, eh?"

"Obviously, we are really happy for them. We know that all the young players are

HUGE FAN: Fernandes says Garnacho has it all eager to play and to get your position, so me as an older one I have to step up and do my job! If not, they're going to take my space."

Marcus Rashford and Anthony Martial goals complemented Garnacho's stunner in an eye-catching win that Erik ten Hag's team needed to build on against Galatasaray in the Champions League.

As for Everton, they travel to Nottingham Forest next weekend looking to bounce back from a heavy home loss after the shock of being deducted 10 points.

Toffees boss Sean Dyche said: "We have created a lot of chances this season but not always scored goals. We have to maintain our belief in what we are doing. We are doing that, I think we did through this game."

Off the pitch, Everton fans made their disgust over the deduction clear with a series of protests during the game.

Fans also booed as the official Premier League matchday stand was erected on halfway.

Ten minutes into the game most fans in the stadium stood up holding their cards, while others chanted: "Premier League, corrupt as fk."

TRENT IS A TOTAL BALLER!

TAA can play anywhere for his club or country says impressed Van Dijk

VIRGIL Van Dijk has weighed in to the debate over Trent Alexander-Arnold's best position by proclaiming his Liverpool team-mate as the complete package.

Alexander-Arnold delivered another reminder of his attacking talents as he got forward to strike a fine equaliser for the Reds in Saturday's 1-1 draw at champions Manchester City.

The 25-year-old right-back had spent a lot of a tight Premier League encounter in defensive mode, trying to contain City's tricky Belgium winger Jeremy Doku.

It was a sweet moment for Alexander-Arnold after debate over whether or how he can fit into the England team.

Van Dijk, the Liverpool captain, said: "I think everyone this season, as a defender, one v one against Doku will have a tough afternoon. He's a very good dribbler.

"It's how you defend them together and try to get two v one in situations and, in the end, I'm pleased for him that he got the equaliser.

"He offers a lot defensively and, in possession, he has qualities that are very special and he shows that as well, so he has the complete package.

"He has to keep doing what he's doing, keep improving, keep that high standard he has for himself and we all have for him as well."

Alexander-Arnold has expanded his game over the past year, not only playing as a conventional attacking full-back but also in a hybrid defence-central midfield role.

His recent England outings against Malta and North Macedonia were also in midfield and Van Dijk admits he does not know where he will ultimately end up.

"I don't know, that's for the coaches that work with him," said the centre-back. "I think for the moment he's playing fine where he is right now.

"He has that freedom to mix it up and he has to do that because you see teams are working it out at times, so he has to be able to switch from staying on the outside and going on the inside as well.

Frustration

"I think it's a good learning curve for him as well and (on Saturday) he did that well because obviously he was playing against one of the most in-form wingers at the moment."

Saturday's result kept Liverpool within a point of title favourites City and, after the frustration of failing to challenge last season, Van Dijk hopes the 2020 champions can push them much closer this time.

The Dutchman said: "It's no secret we want to challenge for everything we are competing in and this year we are looking consistent, something we were missing last year.

"But we are in November with a difficult period coming up, difficult games ahead of us. Anything can happen but hopefully, if we don't get many injuries or no injuries, we have to be confident and give it everything."

City manager Pep Guardiola is taking a safety-first approach with John Stones despite the defender being a crucial part of his plans.

The England international has played just 393 minutes of football for his club – due to a hip injury and while he was named in the squad for the draw with Liverpool after a muscle injury, Guardiola had no intention of using him.

Stones has played a vital role in the evolution of the side as the centre-back who steps forward in possession to allow midfielders to play higher up the pitch.

"He feels good but we are going to give him one, two weeks to do proper strength training sessions," said the City boss.

"John is so important for us I let him play when maybe his muscles weren't completely ready.

Ability

"He will train with us, either partial or completely, and the rest he is going to have strength training sessions in his legs to be sure when he comes back he feels stronger.

"We need him because there are a lot of games. I know the man of the match (against Liverpool) was Jeremy (Doku) but at Stamford Bridge and Manu (Akanji) was believable.

"What a signing the club has made with that guy; he can play full-back, central defender, now holding midfielder and when arriving in the final third he has the ability to make passes."

The game against Liverpool was the first of 11 – in 36 days until the end of December as it includes a trip to Saudi Arabia for the Club World Cup where they are expected to progress from their semi-final.

That means Guardiola has to manage all his players, not just Stones, and he claims their training sessions will not last much longer than half-an-hour.

"Maximum 30-35 minutes moving the ball and that's all.

"We cannot train. If we train we won't have players for the next game."

Boss Ange is the Son and only

TOTTENHAM captain Son Heung-min admits recent defeats hurt but has urged the squad to keep playing the Ange Postecoglou way.

Aston Villa produced a comeback win in north London on Sunday to make it a November to forget for Spurs.

Premier League leaders at the start of the month, Tottenham have since suffered three consecutive losses and seen their list of absentees move into double figures.

Spurs went ahead against Villa, like they had in recent defeats to Chelsea and Wolves, but were wasteful in front of goal and also unable to keep up the relentless attacking style Postecoglou wants for the whole match.

"I think especially in this game, when you are 1-0 up, we have to control even more," Son told SpursPlay.

"We have to respect the (opposition) and we made a couple of mistakes this season where we are going up 1-0 and started playing a little bit slowly.

"Then conceding goals, offside, delays in the game, this is losing our game tempo a little bit and we are giving chances to Villa to come into the game.

"Before half-time when you concede a goal from a set-piece, I think we have to be more stronger.

"The players gave everything, especially in difficult circumstances. It is just tough to take.

"It doesn't matter how well you are playing, in the end you are taking the results and we are talking about the results.

"Yeah, we created chances, good, very good. The way we are playing, I am very pleased and happy but it hurts when you lose a game, especially at home.

"We had such amazing support again and losing this game hurts."

PRESSURE: Postecoglou

Tottenham now turns to Sunday's daunting trip to Manchester City and Rodrigo Bentancur is an early doubt after he sustained an ankle injury against Villa.

Bentancur made his first start since a serious knee injury in February and impressed before he was caught by Matty Cash.

Spurs will have Yves Bissouma back from suspension and will check on Pape Sarr after he returned from Senegal duty with a knock, but Postecoglou knows he will be down to the bare bones for a while.

Spurs boss Postecoglou said: "The reality of it is that we're not going to get too many back.

"We'll get Biss back but we might have lost Bentancur. We only had six or seven on the bench so everyone who is here at the moment is going to have to play a part."

While Tottenham contemplate another defeat, Villa produced a clinical display to move up to fourth in the Premier League after goals by Pau Torres and Ollie Watkins, but Unai Emery played down the current table.

"Enjoy the position and the players are aware about where we are, but we will continue being demanding," Emery said.

"In 38 matches, there are still a lot of things to happen.

"Now we have to rest and think about Thursday (against Legia Warsaw) and then Sunday against Bournemouth."

CLEMENT A FAN OF VAR

RANGERS boss Philippe Clement says he's firmly in favour of VAR staying in Scottish football.

Most managers, pundits and players hate the video ref but not the Ibrox gaffer. He thinks the introduction of the controversial technology has been a good thing.

He said: "I was asked this question a few weeks ago about my opinion of VAR," he said.

"I'm a fan because it makes the game more honest.

Of course, there are still some mistakes and some decisions that stay in a grey area. There are a lot of opinions after games.

"People respond and are fans for one team or another.

"But, in the end, if you are objective, you can only say VAR makes the game more honest than in my days. So I'm a fan of that."

Uproar at plan to expand video ref

VAR looks set to ruin football even more than it does now if the game's lawmakers get their way.

They want to expand the role of the video ref to look at EVERY decision made on the pitch.

At the moment, it's just goals, red cards and penalties that come under the spotlight – and that's bad enough. From next season, every single blow of the whistle could be looked at by the killjoys at Stockley Park – sparking fears that games will last TWO HOURS with all their farting about.

One man who will be upset at the news is Wolves boss Gary O'Neil who saw his side cop a couple of shocking VAR calls as his team lost 3-2 at Fulham thanks to a controversial penalty and missed red card.

He said: "I don't think VAR has helped the game.

"It can't be that with all the technology and all the time and the biggest league in the world that we're getting so many wrong. It can't be OK.

"I've always been for VAR but I think it's causing a big problem at the moment."
